

Valentina M. Sepulveda

International LL.M. Fellow

VSepulveda@bdlaw.com

+1.415.262.4034

333 Bush Street, Suite 1500, San Francisco, CA, 94104-2850

Drawing on her background as an environmental attorney in Chile, Valentina helps clients through environmental compliance, permitting, and enforcement challenges.

Before joining B&D, Valentina advised a multinational company on critical environmental issues including wastewater discharges, atmospheric emissions, waste management, sanitary conditions, and noise limits. She conducted operational and project risk analyses, identified regulatory trends, and developed compliance strategies.

Valentina's experience with the mining, forestry, and pulp and paper industries includes Environmental Impact Assessment strategies, advising on permitting structure and enforcement defense, while closely coordinating with interdisciplinary teams. She also supports compliance with evolving waste regulations and extended producer responsibility laws, while closely coordinating with interdisciplinary teams.

Education

- Stanford Law School (LL.M., 2025)
- Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile (2019)
 - Diploma in Natural Resources Law, Mining Law Specification
- Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Valparaíso (2018)
 - Mine Closure Course "Valorization and Guarantee in a Closure Plan"
- Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile (LL.B., 2015)
 - Equivalent to J.D.
- The University of Melbourne (2014)
 - Academic Exchange Program

Bar Admissions

- Chile

Languages

- Spanish (Native)

- English (Fluent)

Publications

March 17, 2026

Textile EPR Update: California Selects Landbell USA as PRO as U.S. and Global Requirements Expand

Beveridge & Diamond

January 29, 2026

CEQA Reforms: 2025 Enactments and 2026 Proposals

Beveridge & Diamond

January 29, 2026

Environmental Developments to Watch in California in 2026

Beveridge & Diamond